Releases New Official Grading Guide & Video!

By Joseph M. Bissell

C.G.C. (Currency Grading & Certification, Inc.) is releasing its new Official Grading Guide "The Standard Guide for Grading Paper Money."

In addition, a video will also be available, which will walk you through visually on "how to examine notes." Many times it's very challenging to articulate with words how to thoroughly examine notes or pass on tricks of the trade.

The Numismatic community has never had such a grading guide or video available before. The newly contrived guide covers a vast & diverse pool of areas surrounding the grading of the Paper Money. The book opens with the introduction, "The Lost Art of Grading." Unfolding with a discussion on the exciting explosion in the collecting of paper money. The intro. then moves forward discussing the source types/levels of expertise outlined in the book – containing almost a dozen graders and dozens of other dealers (with a cumulative knowledge base & experience of literally hundreds of years) contributing these documented learning's. Historically, there has been a lack of educational

Can Notes improve with Age?

By Joseph M. Bissell

Are notes capable of improving with time, certainly not naturally. But, with a little help from perhaps a hack or an archival restoration professional perhaps notes can improve. Not meaning to turn this brief article into an ethics class, but most would agree that a note that has undergone surgery (restoration) and then is up for sale, certainly one would like it disclosed.

At a recent Stack's auction (Jan. 15th 2002) a 1929 $100 FRN star note (serial #E00006412H) disclosed to as having staple holes in it was later (couple of months) up for sale by a different auction house, listed as "completely unmolested," and as "Gem." Stack's described the note (appropriately) as "A fresh and original note, No. E00006412H, which is Extremely Fine. However, there are staple holes on the left side of the portrait and over the serial numbers. A scarce star with much appeal." Stack's hammered the note at $10,350, the resell estimate (approx. 4 months later) was est. $40,000-$60,000 (lot #1092), listed as New Discovery and being offered for the first time.....

In speaking with a respected colleague (Martin Gengerke a long time employed auction house cataloger and is currently the Assoc. Director of U.S. Currency at R.M.Smythe) his opinion is the note has been "improved," meaning "processed." Martin acknowledges only four such notes known. "In the Stack's auction the note clearly has its registration marks (upper left corner) and in the subsequent auction the marks have vanished, apparently resulting from the note having been trimmed. Staple holes GONE!

There are several issues here to be pointedly discussed. First, the person who purchased the note from the Stack's auction (for just over $10k) obviously materials for one to develop grading skills. Typically, a collector would have to educate himself through the painful channels of trial and error, of which there is certainly no shortage of lesson plans. For the last several years, I've received phone calls and emails almost daily inquiring into possibly procuring any educational materials available to enhance one's grading skills. I've listened to perhaps hundreds of stories of individuals who've lost a great deal of money (their life savings in many instances) by acquiring misrepresented notes.

C.G.C. was founded almost a year ago and has always strived to (and continues to) inject some concrete guidelines for the paper money collecting community. These grading guidelines have been documented for the first time ranging from as low as Poor-1 all the way to Cu-70. It is important to mention that these guidelines really just reflect predominately a compilation of current "market acceptable standards." Example, it's widely accepted that a note with a centerfold is generally deemed to be an Au (Almost Uncirculated) note, etc.. We've just extended it all the way to Cu-70 and have documented the guidelines so everyone has a source.

Next, a brief philosophy on "why Grading Standards" are so important is discussed, followed by a chapter outlining Step by Step Grading Procedures. This chapter begins with an outline of the necessary "tools of the trade," everything from lighting, stereoscopes all the way to digital calipers. Next the chapter glides into a descriptive "routine" of how to examine all aspects of a note. Routines are very important (like going through a checklist before flying a plane, one of my favorite hobbies of 25 years) since they develop a natural sense of "total coverage." I've seen so many guys go through a note and assign an opinion (or grade) only to have someone hold it up to the light (which they forgot to do) and locate some pinholes. This chapter (cont. pg. 12) knew the note had pinholes and other concerns. Is this the same individual who listed the note in the subsequent auction, if so, he or she obviously had knowledge the note was improved and did not disclose the restorations (one can only assume since the recent selling auction house had no mention of it in the catalog).

Secondly, I would hope the recent selling auction house is looking into this matter closely in attempts to uncover this type of activity. The subsequent auction house was notified just prior to the lot hitting the podium and did come forward and did make an announcement. Unlike coins (where this type of activity breeds like fire) paper money has the advantage of being serial numbered allowing research to be conducted and documented trackings to be undertaken. Mistakes are going to happen, there's a lot of notes to track, items will fall through the cracks, many of them unintentional, the question is have you done your homework before entering a buy bid or making an offer. It is obviously the responsibility of the selling party to make full and legitimate attempts when presenting a note for sale, but errors do happen.

Any buyer or collector needs to really do all the homework they can, including: researching the note, examining the note very closely (if you're not positive get second and third opinions) and then research the "Seller," and his/her track record and return policies. Buying notes is, and can be a blast, you just need to really research them and have people you can rely on.

"PRICING, GRADING & POPULATION SUMMARY"

This is a "Retail Publication," and is designed to reflect current market prices. These prices are procured from many sources, including: Dealers, Internet auctions, previous auction houses "prices realized," striving to reflect current market prices. If the Note Type contains a range of Fr.#'s, then the listed price reflects the most common Fr.#. This publication is in NO way instructing or suggesting for its readers to purchase at these levels. Grading ranges from Very Good (MS 8) to Premium Gem (MS 68). The listed prices were gathered from both professionally graded and independently graded "sold" notes. We did denote the observation that prof. graded notes generally sold for higher prices than independently graded notes. A Population Summary column is listed for ea. Note Type, many times with a range of Fr.#'s. Example: Fr.#100-102 (1880 $10 Legal Tender) shows 24-6-38 in the Population column-meaning there are 24 notes in CU & up for Fr.#100, 6 notes (in CU & up) for Fr.#101 & 38 notes (in CU & up) for Fr.#102. If you see +++ there are likely more out there than reported.

Let's Talk

(inclusively) discusses all aspects of examining notes, and more importantly “how to examine a note thoroughly.” This includes locating: pinholes, folds (through multiple methods), handling marks, corner tip bends/folds, trimmed edges, earthquakes/lightning bolts, foxing , glue remnants, paper abrasions (meteors), centering, skewing/tilting, trailing edges, etc...

Next, the publication launches into a very descriptive and detailed analysis of “Determining the Grade.” This chapter goes over what CGC considers “Compensating Factors,” then transitions into the “Uniform Grading Standards.” It’s important to reiterate that these official grading standards are a reflection predominately of existing “market acceptable standards.” It just hasn’t been documented on a “Point System” yet ranging from Poor- 1 to Perfect- 70.

Each grade category covers the required determinants of a note in order for the note to attain its numerical grade. Each level is very specific in the multiple facets surrounding each grade category. The chapter comes to a close with general grading comments and thoughts. Following is a chapter on “Grading Idiosyncrasies,” which discusses briefly each main category of paper money: U.S. Large & small, Fractionals, Military Payment Certificates, Confederate/Oboletes and World Paper Money. This chapter basically goes over some “quirks” of the various note types. It’s certainly important to know which notes “only” come with thin margins or has atypical sheet layouts, in order to know the basic possibilities of a specific type or issue.

Following, you’ll enter into the Chapter of “The Perils of Processed Notes.” Where you’ll procure the “tricks of the trade” in detecting processed notes. These tools have been developed from long time veterans who’ve witnessed the processing of notes for over a half a century (and longer I’m sure). The book covers everything from: bleaching, pressed out folds, closed pinholes, to re-embossing. You won’t want to skim these pages!

A brief chapter covering the proper “Storage and Preservation” of Paper Money, which outlines the basics and some little tricks to prevent the aging process (which we could learn some of these tricks to preserve our own bodies, ha).

You’ll also receive a COMPLIMENTARY copy of the the “Rarity Population Report.” This report contains approx. 60,000 notes listed by fr.# and has a spreadsheet break-out of each grade category (from VG-8 to Premium Gem 68). The report is inclusive of U.S. Large and small size, fractionals and even MPC’s. The report also deciphers how many notes in each category have been professionally graded. This report normally cost a couple hundred dollars. Lastly, the book contains a FREE GRADING CERTIFICATE with CGC, valued at thirty five dollars.

To order your copy of “The Standard Guide for Grading Paper Money & video” you can call CGC’s office at (602) 493-4758, or email: CGC@CurrencyGradingCertification.com or see page 3 of this months issue. You can also just remit a check to: CGC, 10645 N. Tatum Blvd. Ste.#200 PMB 638, Phoenix, AZ 85028. The price is normally $75 for the book and $50 for the video. Advance copies can be purchased for $69.95 for the book or $99.95 for both plus $10 s/h ($17.50 for overnight). Each book will be personally signed and numbered.

Reader’s Reponses

Joe: I just returned from a local show and I can’t believe the difference it makes when going through a hundred or so notes in regards to the learning curve of grading notes. I found it especially helpful when having the ability to see several notes of the exact same issue, helping me determine if a note just didn’t come with embossing or if it was just the note in my hand that lacked it. I really recommend for collectors to try to attend a show and enjoy this practice of going through large inventories for the enormous educational process.....Bill.

VERY IMPORTANT!

All Pricing Spreadsheets are

These prices are the result of prices realized from sales of C.G.C. product, NOT raw notes and NOT notes in other slabbed holders!

You can NOT compare (realistically) C.G.C. prices realized with other notes (raw or graded by other companies) with similar expectations.
