OCTOBER 2002

"REMEMBER ME?" SOLD!

By Joseph M. Bissell

Last month we published an article here by Adrian Crane, Atty. (who does an inspirational amount of business in internet sales), briefly discussing his first purchase of C.G.C. product.

This note was pictured above (along with the $1 on the next page), and the deuce , completing a

POST 9/11 MARKET PLACE?

How's paper money doing today?

By: Joseph M. Bissell

Where is the market today? It appears fairly strong by all dealer indications. In reviewing recent auction results most types are selling off fairly strong, coming in normally between an 80 to 97% sell off range. In most readings I see, there's seems to be a pattern, Large size notes are claimed to be soft. How can this be? Is it true? Then I read statistics showing that 96% of all offered large size notes sold at a recent auction, WHICH CARRIED THE STRONGEST RESULTS!!!

When interviewing dealers I keep hearing the same complaint, "I can't find any Gem large size material to sell, well not a reasonable price." It would appear many were somewhat spoiled in the ability to purchase high end gems for low wholesale "raw" prices and then have them slabbed and hit the jackpot. (Cont. on page 12)

C.G.C.'s ONE YEAR ANNIVERSARY!

Boy, has time flown by, C.G.C. was founded a year ago, and has just grown beyond expectations. This growth is due to both hiring the most astute and honest graders and by delivering the absolute best customer service.

C.G.C. originated with the goal of providing it's customers with both expedient and consistent service. The company also strives to provide its customers with they want! In the beginning, the beautiful set of Educational notes (1896 $1 , $2 and the $5). We followed up with Mr. Crane this week to see how the product was doing on the internet, only to find that the set SOLD expediently, literally in a matter of days.

Also, SOLD this last week, was the 1928E $1 Funnyback in CGC 66, which was featured last month in this publication under the auction section on page 13, with a "Buy it Now" of $3,350. This note sold very quickly also, and was for sale by a dealer, realizing the FULL advertised amount. Anyone and everyone can list their notes in this exciting auction for NO listing fees! You can also view the notes at www.GradedCurrency.com For more info.feel free to call us at: (602) 493-4758 or email us at: Sales@GradedCurrency.com and put this publication to work - to sell your notes!

company offered only one size (Large) hard case holder. Customers expressed their high level of appreciation towards the holder but really desired a small type (for the small notes also). C.G.C. fulfilled that desired and went back to the drawing board and designed yet another holder to encapsulate smaller notes.

Also, in the beginning, C.G.C. certified only Large and small size U.S. notes and fractionals. Then, due to demand the company responded expediently and offered its grading services to a wider spectrum (adding Military Payment Certificates, then Confederates, then Obsoletes and is now currently reviewing the request for Colonials). I think the point here is that C.G.C. strives to be responsive to the industries requests.

As time passed C.G.C. received requests daily from customers in desperate need of educational materials on how to detect processed notes and how to become educated on detecting folds – basically a need for educational materials to wart off being taken advantage of. Again, the company worked very diligently and produced the book and one hour video/DVD "The Standard Guide for Grading Paper Money" (see ad on next page). These educational materials have been very widely accepted and deeply appreciated by hundreds.

Yes, with the passage of time, CGC tries to keep up with, and even strives to be a leader in the industry. To help propel the good of (cont. pg.12)

"PRICING, GRADING & POPULATION SUMMARY"

This is a "Retail Publication," and is designed to reflect current market prices. These prices are procured from many sources, including: Dealers, Internet auctions, previous auction houses "prices realized," striving to reflect current market prices. If the Note Type contains a range of Fr.#'s, then the listed price reflects the most common Fr.#. This publication is in NO way instructing or suggesting for its readers to purchase at these levels. Grading ranges from Very Good (MS 8) to Premium Gem (MS 68). The listed prices were gathered from both professionally graded and independently graded "sold" notes. We did denote the observation that prof. graded notes generally sold for higher prices than independently graded notes. A Population Summary column is listed for ea. Note Type, many times with a range of Fr.#'s. Example: Fr.#100-102 (1880 $10 Legal Tender) shows 24-6-38 in the Population column-meaning there are 24 notes in CU & up for Fr.#100, 6 notes (in CU & up) for Fr.#101 & 38 notes (in CU & up) for Fr.#102. If you see +++ there are likely more out there than reported.

Granted Permission for the Friedberg numbering system (licensed) has been authorized by the Coin & Currency Institute, Inc.

VERY IMPORTANT!

All Pricing Spreadsheets are reflective of C.G.C.
Product only!

These prices are the result of prices realized from sales of C.G.C. product, NOT raw notes and NOT notes in other slabbed holders!

You can NOT compare (realistically) C.G.C. prices realized with other notes (raw or graded by other companies) with similar expectations.

Recent EXAMPLES:

CGC –65 Bison sold for $5.5k, competitors 65 offered at $3.3k
CGC –66 Bison sold for $12.5k, competitors 65 offered at $6.5k
CGC – 65 $1 Ed (fr.224) sold for $3.5k, competitors 65 sold $2.2k
CGC – 65 Chief (same fr.#) sold $4.3k, competitors 65 sold $1.8k
CGC – 65 $500 '34a sold $4.2k, competitors 65 sold for $2.4k
CGC – 65 $1,000 '34a sold for $9.5k (ebay) competitors 65 $3.5k CGC – 65 1168 $10 GC sold $3.5k, competitors 65 sold for $1.8k
CGC – 65 $10 '28 Gold sold $1.9k, competitors 65 sold for $1k

(*examples go on endlessly, the point is not all grading services realize equal values (as in the coin industry), and figures should not used for raw or other slabbed product).

Much more to come.....

This "Chief Hollow Horn Bear" has it all! Huge Boardwalk margins, vivid brilliant colors, super white paper, nothing left to desire for the most discriminate!

This 611 $10 in Gem CGC-65 is as elusive as you can imagine. Probably not to resurface on the market in my life time. The word opportunity doesn't do it justice

Wow! A Fr.1325 with "1 & A" Colby Spinner, Type 1 Red Back in CGC-66. Brilliant Bronzing and nice white paper with Black rich inks! Bid or Buy it now!

An opportunity you may have only ONCE! This very elusive MPC 611 $5 Gem CGC-65 is about as rare as they come, I'd hurry before the seller takes an offer!

Let's Talk

It really appears that it's just getting tougher for dealers to locate high end raw notes at ridiculously low prices. Low prices are gone for “real or original” notes. You can still find a bargain, but normally when you get it professionally graded you'll inevitably find out why you got a smokin price. What about when a large size notes goes at auction at a very low price (and it's cataloged at gem). Well, sophisticated dealers/collectors can view a note and detect if the note is not as it's claimed (could have been processed or just doesn't meet today's Gem standards) and those buyers stay off the note, thereby “letting it go cheap.” This in NO way means that prices are weak for that particular type or issue. It generally means the note wasn't the grade it was claimed to be. Then you have the issue if the catalogers at different company's grade consistently, one cataloger may call everything gem, while another may be a little more accurate, all these variables go into pricing.

From the results we hear about in this market, prices are quite strong (on all issues). Well, then there's the question about interviewing dealers at shows, did they have a strong or weak show. Is this really a gauge in 2002? It certainly was historically. But buyers no longer have to wait all year for that show to come in their neighborhood. Travel has become next to impossible to deal with (especially for dealers). So, show results are hardly the end market gauges any longer.

The results we like to go by, are those of entirety. Meaning, we like to look at results from auctions (on notes that appear to be represented accurately under close examination), from the bourse floors, from dealer sales (offline) and from internet sales. It's all these results that count, and some more than others. It use to be, most of the sales at an auction were from the floor, now it appears to be heavily weighted to the internet sales (this is why auction houses are now bombarding you with their internet auctions).

Overall, we're hearing very positive things about the marketplace. In literally every facet: Large, small, Fractionals, Obsoletes, MPC's (new records set everyday here), and World paper money is even heating up with each month. With the new economic volatility at hand its impressive that paper money has done so well, and appears to be well on its way to prior 9/11 levels. More to come.....

C.G.C.'s ONE Year Anniversary

the hobby, provide a service for EVERYONE (not just large dealers), but the entire collecting community. C.G.C. also responded to public demand to provide the first ever Population report (recording all “Certified” and raw material) with about 60,000 notes, and about 1,000 new notes added monthly. The next interesting request by customers was for them to have a place to be able to offer/sell their notes without having the highly associated expenses (hotels, meals, and huge airfares) and the alleviation of travel headaches. C.G.C. came up with the idea to allow customers to sell their notes year round in both this publication (see pages 4, 13 and now page 14) with scanned in photo's. So, when CGC slabs a note you can notify them of your desire to sell it and they'll scan it in this publication and also place it on their associated website: GradedCurrency.com So, each note featured in this publication can be viewed (in color, front and back) more closely on the website. Last month alone the Gold Sheet SOLD 3 notes (for dealers) that were featured in this publication. Obviously, collectors can sell their notes over the internet but there can be listing fees there (ours are FREE) and you have to monitor it, do all the listing work, and most importantly, with C.G.C. you don't have to worry about collecting funds, we do it for you! If your interested in listing your notes give us a call (602) 493-4758. We listen to our customers - tell us what else you'd like next – we'll try to do it!
